

Hist 356: A History of Ancient Macedonia from the Archaic Period to the Death of Alexander the Great

Spring Semester 2023

Course Instructor: Dr. John Karavas

Phone number: 6944 313660

Class Hours: Monday/Wednesday: 13.45-15.20.

Course Description

Through the study of the available primary evidence – literary, epigraphic and archaeological – this course seeks to familiarize students with particular aspects of the history, culture and civilization of Ancient Macedon up to the age of Alexander the Great. Following a detailed examination of the main social, political and economic conditions and institutions that developed in Ancient Macedon during the Archaic and Classical periods, it then attempts to explore the main factors that led to the emergence of the Macedon State as the undisputed leader in Greek affairs by the 4th century BC. Special emphasis will be placed on the careers of Alexander I and of Philip II and their profound impact on the consolidation of Macedon power over Greece. The second part of the course will deal exclusively with the reign of Alexander the Great. Through the use of primary sources, the course will closely follow Alexander’s campaigns in the East, with a detailed reference to certain aspects of his multi-faceted personality and to an assessment of his achievement and long lasting legacy. Special emphasis is given to topics that are central to modern political and intellectual debate.

Course Requirements

Assignments:

Students will be expected to write one research paper, not more than 2.500 words, on subjects/topics relevant to this course. Details will be provided on the first day of classes. Assignments for topics will be decided by lot, one month before the deadline for the submission of essays. Papers must be properly documented and should include an appended bibliography. Credit will be given for originality, i.e. illustrations, maps etc, personal observation and evidence of independent reading-research. Unless otherwise specified, all submitted work must be your own, original work. Any excerpts from the work of others must be clearly identified as a quotation, and a proper citation provided. (Check Student handbook, pg 9).

Students who wish to turn in rough drafts of their essays for consultation are certainly welcomed to do so. The deadline for the submission of rough drafts is Friday, May 5.

Title proposals and general outlines must be handed in at least three weeks before the respective deadline.

The deadline for the submission of the final essay is Friday, May 12. No extensions will be granted.

Exams:

Midterm: Monday, March 13

Final: TBA

Class Attendance - Absences

Student attendance is mandatory. All absences must be excused by the administration and not the instructor. Each unexcused absence will result in a lowered participation grade.

Grading and Evaluation

The mid-term grade will be calculated on the basis of the mid-term exam (70%) and with regard to student's attendance of and participation in classes (30%).

The final grade will be an average of the grades assigned for the mid term-exam (25%), the final essay (25%), the grade assigned for the final exam (35%) and of that assigned for class participation and attendance over the course of the semester (15%).
